ORR WILL WAIT.

No Political Announcement Until February 23.

James W. Orr of Atchison, who is in Topeka today, states that he will make no announcement of his political plans until the annual banquet of Kansas Democrats in Topeka, next Monday. At that time, Orr states, he will make a definite statement regarding his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination.

For some time Orr's name has been mentioned in connection with the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. But the Orr boom started some weeks before Governor Hodges definitely stated that he would be a candidate to succeed himself and many of Orr's friends believe that he will not be a candidate except in event Hodges sought the senatorial nomination. These matters will be settled by Orr, however, when he comes to Topeka next week.

"I will make no statement at this time," said Orr, "but will say definitely just what I will do when I come to Topeka next Monday."

Orr left this afternoon for Eureka to appear in the trial of a lawsuit.

AT THE MOVIES.

The Empress.

"Fitzhugh's Ride," a two-part feature, will be presented at the Empress for Wednesday and Thursday. An Essanay comedy, "Into Society and Out," and a fourth reel will also be given. The main feature of the week, however, will be "The Third Degree," which will be presented Friday and Saturday. This is in five reels and is taken from the famous play of the same name, written by Charles Klein. This is the story of a college chum, both coming into dire straits and one of them finally committing suicide. It depicts the long established custom of extorting confessions from suspects, known as the "third degree." This is said to be a powerful drama, has had a remarkable run in New York and has only recently been placed in films.

The Crystal.

"The False Bride" will be presented at the Crystal for Wednesday and Thursday. This is a three-reel Victor feature with Florence Lawrence in the title role. In this picture, according to advance reports, a clever double exposure is made in which Florence Lawrence appears on the scene twice at the same time. It is a story of the substitution of brides, discovered just before the unfortunate groom is led into the pitfall of matrimony. It ends well, according to the management of the theater, and Miss Lawrence is at her best. Another reel, a comedy, "Twist Love and Flour," will conclude the mid-week bill.

Marine Feature at Cozy.

"Soldiers of the Sea" will be presented at the Cozy for Wednesday and Thursday. This is a feature which shows the intimate life of the marines in the United States navy. It was taken with the consent and assistance of the government and shows the naval marines in all parts of the world. It gives an idea of the power of the marine corps and brings them before the eye of the people. A strong program has been booked for the last of the week.

The Best.

"Through the Fires of Temptation," a three reel special picture, will be shown for the last time at the Best tonight. This is a strong picture with Geant Gauntier and her all-star company.

The Best theater produces nothing but three-reel features and has bookings ahead for weeks. A new electric sign has just been completed there, which is as novel as the old one.

The Gem.

"King, the Detective," will be shown tonight at the Gem. This is a two-reel picture with King Baggot and Jane Gall in the leads. A drama and a comedy are also on the bill. For Wednesday and Thursday, Edwin August appears in a two-reel feature, "Into the Lion's Pit." This is followed by "Irene, the Onion Eater's Daughter." By the title it is easy to guess what variety of a picture this is.

Another comedy.

"Midnight Alarm," rounds up the excellent mid-week bill.

The Iris.

Another interesting program in Kinacolor pictures is being shown at the Iris Monday and today. These Kinacolor pictures are one of the most attractive features of entertainment among moving picture houses in Topeka. The program this week includes the film, "War and Peace" in three reels, "Other People's Children," in two reels, and Alice Lloyd, the famous English comedienne, together with pictures of the tea industry in India.

The film "War and Peace" is based on a war time theme portraying the visit of a northerner in the south in the early sixties during which time he becomes infatuated with a southern belle. Later, after the Civil war begins, the same young man returns to the south as a federal captain. This film ends in a beautiful romance and is highly interesting.

The film, "Other People's Children," portrays a confirmed bachelor driven to desperation by the neighbors' children, receives news that his brother has left for an extended trip and has sent his twins to him (the bachelor) for safekeeping. They are accompanied by their governess and the film ends with a romance.

The program, beginning Wednesday, it the film, "Life's Bitter Dregs," in four parts. This film was produced by the same company as in "The Black Circle," which was shown at the Iris last week. "Life's Bitter Dregs" is an idyllic story of love and love's greatest sacrifice. The attractive features of this film are portrayed as in "The Black Circle," which proved to be so popular.

The octophone, recently installed at a great expense to the management, is proving to be one of the attractive features of the popular movie house. The patrons are highly pleased with the rendition of pleasing selections especially in the rendition of the high class offerings.

PADEREWSKI COMING.

Famous Pianist Will Play at the Auditorium Tomorrow.

The factor in piano playing which differentiates above all else Paderewski from other pianists is his touch and the wonderfully beautiful singing quality of tone he secures from his instrument. All the more interesting, therefore, is it to get his own views on the subject. He was asked once what is meant by a pianist's touch. He replied that a treatise might be written on the question. Generally speaking, however, a pianist's touch he regarded as the expression of the pianist's temperament; that is to say, the tone he produces is a part of his individuality and as such must necessarily be different in different players. Different players, therefore, stir audiences with different degrees of profundity and in answer to the question who in his experience had stirred audiences most profoundly, he answered without hesitation, "Rubinstein."

"Rubinstein," he said, "stirred his audiences more than any violin player or because of the much wider range of the piano. More than singers, generally, but not always. The piano will stir people more deeply than will the human voice, soprano, contralto or bass, but it might be held to take second place occasionally—not more than once or twice in a century—on the appearance of a perfect tenor. The piano does not need the support of music rendered by another medium and thus a piano recital does not tire, provided, of course, the performer can bring out all his author intended."

Paderewski plays in Topeka at the Auditorium tomorrow, Wednesday, and the following will be the program:

Prelude and Fugue in A minor. . . . . Bach-Liszt

BACK FROM THE WILDS

Lesley Party Returns From Exploratory Trip in Peru.

New York, Feb. 17.—Members of the Lesley expedition, which left here last summer to explore uncharted regions of South America, returned today on the Byron and reported they had found the bones of members of the Cromer expedition which entered the wilds of Peru, nearly two years ago, and was never heard from. The Cromer expedition was headed by W. H. Cromer, and William H. Page, a Chicago high school teacher.

The Lesley expedition crossed the continent from Lima and came down the Amazon from the headwaters to its mouth. They found hip and thigh bones and other traces of the Cromer party, on the way, and erected a cross to their memory. Those who returned today were Captain J. Campbell Lesley, an Englishman; F. B. Coates, J. K. Holbrook and J. W. Dunne. They reported the discovery of a new Inca city in Peru called Piaterayoc and visited other regions hitherto unknown to white men.

Traces were found of the lost Seljan expedition, which took the same route as the Cromer, and Captain Lesley thought the bones might have been remains of members of either party. The Seljan expedition was in search of rubber and is said to have been financed by F. F. Grandchild of Chicago. Lesley said he encountered the trip, savages cannibals armed with poison arrows and on one occasion his party was attacked by them. Few shots drove them off.

Y. W. C. ASSOCIATION.

The Fine Showing Made by the Organization.

A dinner to the subscribing members of the Y. W. C. A. was given at the building of the association last evening. The president, Mrs. A. A. Godard, presided. Miss Marguerite Dice, the secretary, gave a graphic and interesting account of the year's work, supplemented by talks by Mrs. W. S. Lindsay, vice president, and Mrs. David Page, former treasurer. An address was made by Miss Inez Kinney, of Denver, executive secretary of the West Central field, who returned yesterday from the meeting of the national board in New York city.

Reports for the year 1913 show 1,104 members; 411 gymnasium enrollment; 1,094 used swimming pool, 189 educational enrollment; 290 daily average in lunch room; 22 permanent roomers; 379 transient roomers; 363 Bible class enrollment; 45 average at religious services; 12 enrollment in mission study class; 45 secured positions through employment department; 74 members in newly organized high school club; and 7 charges from juvenile court cared for.

The total receipts for the year were $11,580.35; the total expense $12,549.93, leaving a balance on hand January 1, 1914, of $10.42, with all current bills paid.

The only liabilities are a debt of $2,764 due on the building because of unpaid pledges and $51.35 covering an agreement to furnish a room in the National Board building in New York city.

The estimated expense for the year 1914 including interest on the loan and $500 of the principal is $21,357.15. The estimated receipts from membership, class fees, cafeteria, dormitory and property is $18,714, leaving to be raised by subscriptions $2,673.15. The amount to be raised by subscriptions for 1914 is something more than the amount raised last year because of the desire of the association to pay off $500 of the principal of its debt.

The financial standing shows excellent business management and a small debt, only $2,764, considering the value of the association property, about $30,000.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The Five Lunatics appear in the new feature at the Orpheum. This is a number of the "slap stick" variety, which appeals to a per cent of every audience. The youth who takes the customary part of the dude who goes to a harmonica, climbs stairs with the agility of a boy, can say his prayers, thereby teaching several in the audience a good lesson and in other ways proves his remarkable intelligence. Curtis, as a roller skater, is above the average and he and Buster work together well.

Be Harmon & Co., perform in an act that includes the wonderful disappearance of one of the cast. Harmon puts together a giant man, entirely empty of the state, in the future of the audience. The man performs in the steel structure. Later Harmon takes the steel man apart again, in the front of the stage, and it is empty. This is a good number.

Clifford and Taylor have a singing and dancing act which goes well. The act of the Hunter sisters Monday afternoon was a decided disappointment. The three sisters were booked as musicians, but failed to give any satisfaction. During a particularly dreary violin solo by one of the number the audience clapped vociferously, making it nearly impossible for them to go on with the act. After the performance, Manager Nathanson cancelled their act and moving pictures were substituted in the evening show. One reel of pictures and music by the Orpheum orchestra started the show.

Beginning this afternoon, instead of the act of the musical sisters, the management has booked Marceon and Greenwood, direct from Kansas City. They will present a duo musical offering. S. J.

Monotone Banquet at Nortonville. Nortonville, Kan., Feb. 17.—The third annual banquet of the Democrats of Jefferson county was held at Nortonville last evening. About 500 were present, a good part of them women. Governor Hodges was the principal speaker and spoke on the subject, "Constructive Legislation of the Democratic Party in 1913." The governor declared that the Democratic party must be progressive if it continued in power and said that there was room for but two parties—a conservative and progressive. The Democratic party has become the progressive and the Republican the conservative. There is no middle ground he said. Speeches were made by Miss Sude Anderson and Tom Moxey of Atchison.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

Smart But Inexpensive Hats for Now

Women who are eager to change will be pleased at the smartness, the becomingness and the practicability of the new ready-to-wear hats for earliest spring—the "first" hats, that supply the link between winter and spring, yet are entirely suitable to wear late in the season.

Among the least expensive of these new hats are some that are much finer than the prices indicate. Being extremely simple, (though extremely smart) in style, the materials are, of course, much finer than they would be if the hats required much trimming. See these styles:

High-brim turbans of Tagal braid with crown of soft silk—moire or faille—in black, navy, brown, taupe, or tan—prices $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 and up to $5.00.

Also Soft Tagal tams in very new shapes, in colors, at $3.

Very New Leather Bags $3.50

Real Morocco Bags, in black—the new stitched-frame bags, 1 1/4 inches deep, on 8-inch frame, leather lined, has narrow strap handle—$3.50.

Fancy Calf Bag—A very fine, soft, brown leather made in the new very deep style; 8 inches deep, on a 6-inch wide-open frame, silk moire lined, fitted—$3.50.

New Art Needlework Ideas

Bungalow Sets are the newest in decorative table linens—cross shape, intended for tables at which four covers are laid. With these cloths are two ovals, and 12 doilies, the set, stamped on art linen, to be done in Delft embroidery, is $2.90. 66-inch cloths, for eight covers, with 2 ovals and 16 doilies, are priced $4.25.

Fillet transparent applique embroidery is shown in leaf designs, intended to be heavily outlined, with the center of the leaf cut-out fillet lace. A 36-inch round lunch cloth of this pattern, all linen, stamped, for $1.00.

Stamped Candle Shades, with the wire frames are priced at 50c for shade and frame.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

The revival of old plays at the Majestic continues, and the week the presentation by the local stock company is of the one-time favorite, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." This must have been the story that our great grandparents used to scare the children into going to sleep before the days of the Child Welfare League. If all the booze fighters and cut-throats of this play should move to Dover, Dover would be a city.

Topeka, however, appears to date on temperance lectures, and the play is such a lecture as a degrading agency. It has not been a better house to a Monday night performance at the Majestic this season than that which witnessed the tavern scenes of last night. The story runs through six short acts, consisting of as many different episodes but slightly related. It evidently is intended to show up the gradual work of intemperance as a degrading agency. For in the first act there is but one brawl, and that does not end in the death of any actor, probably because they are all needed for succeeding drunken brawls.

A Mr. Romaine, whose part is taken by Walter Walsh, appears in the first act, and thereafter in all the acts. He has nothing particular to do with the action of the play, and his dramatic function seems to be simply to warn the inhabitants of the unrighteous village of Cederville of the evils of drink, and to be on hand at every turn to "point the moral and adorn the tale." Neal Anderson does very well as the young prodigal who treads the downward path and meets an early death at the hands of a vicious gambler, in the person of R. J. Mack. He carries his liquor very well for so young a person and appears to reel just about enough. J. G. Stutsman takes the part of the gutter drunkard. (This piece, you see, presents them in all shades and degrees.) He writhes through an attack of delirium tremens that is fittingly gruesome, and then suddenly reforms to become the shining light of the countryside. Sport North, as Sample Swichel, afforded some gleams of humor through the general atmosphere of gloom and wickedness. He gave a realistic representation of a cheerful rustic. His acting was excellent diversion and won the approbation of the audience. B. H.
